Three Years of Making First Generation Learners Become Job Ready:

In the year 2020, BFA signed an MOU with HCL Foundation with the aim to make more students job ready. As part of this project, BFA, in the last 3 years, has counselled more than 4200 students of 16 Inter Colleges, schools and NGOs regarding career options, encouraged them to take up vocational courses, helped 230 impecunious students with admissions to vocational institutes, mentored them, and helped 90 students who had completed their courses secure jobs assuring salary with dignity. We have also imparted soft skills and life skill training to more than 2500 students which helped increase their awareness, build confidence and improve their personality. Our bouquet of course offerings also increased from 8 to 33 and so did the affiliated institutions. We hope to reach out to more students in the next project.

'Sankalp: Adult Literacy Program took Flight:

In November 2021, BFA made a small beginning to empower analphabetic women of the neighbourhood, through the 'Sankalp' Adult Literacy Programme. With a firm belief that literacy is critical for empowering women to gain confidence, hold their head high in the society and earn income by starting small ventures, BFA appointed a qualified teacher to conduct literacy sessions in a school in Gejha Village. At present 10 women are regularly attending classes free of cost. Apart from reading writing and mathematics, BFA also conducts sessions and expert talks on topics like nutrition and health, financial literacy etc. so as to give them wider exposure to issues that are important for them and their families. BFA has now introduced classes in English for women who have already learnt Hindi.

Hanging Libraries, a Gift of Knowledge for Lesser-privileged:

To provide good quality books to lesser privileged children studying in schools with no libraries, Books for All started a drive to raise funds for Hanging Libraries, each comprising about 100 beautifully illustrated books written in simple language. The unique feature of Hanging Library is that it does not need any space or dedicated infrastructure, as it can be easily hung on walls. With the concerted efforts of our well wishers and staff we were able to give this gift of knowledge to the children of 88 schools in 17 states of India! More than 15,000 students from Rural Government Schools are benefitting from these books. Our unique initiative was also covered by ABP News which brought us a lot of support. Apart from Hindi and English Books, BFA also shipped Marathi, Telugu, Kannada, Bengali and Assamese books on demand.
