

BFA Libraries Observe Independence Day

August 15th - a day that fills every Indian heart with joy and pride. Students from the six BFA Libraries took part in various activities to observe Independence Day this year showcasing their skills in dance, drama and art & craft work. "The infinite library of the universe is in your mind," said Swami Vivekananda. The students proved this saying right with their brilliance. There was excitement in the air as they displayed their creativity and talent and basked in the happiness of I-Day celebrations.

Literacy Program Yields Outstanding Results

BFA Volunteers under 'Project Sankalp' are dedicated to the cause of empowering underprivileged women through education. A three-month Literacy Program was conducted by BFA volunteers at NEMP School in Sector 93, Gejha Village, Noida. Due to the dedication and individual effort taken by the volunteers, the program yielded excellent results and all the women enrolled for free Hindi and English classes at the centre passed with flying colors in the test conducted by the team. They were handed 'Sankalp' certificates. Their pride is an inspiration for BFA.

BFA vocational student now employed

BFA is proud to share that vocational training student Pooja has been placed at a leading IT firm as a Business Development Executive at a remuneration of Rs16,500. BFA helped Pooja at NKIC last year by providing her with counselling sessions on DIT courses. Pooja wanted to support her family financially as her father was not keeping well. She completed the DIT course from Udayan and Dr. Reddy's. BFA is proud of Pooja, the true personification of empowerment with education.
